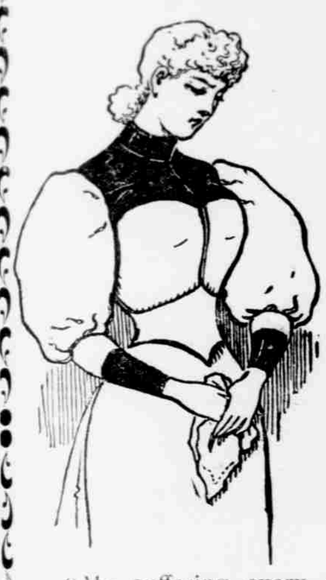
THE BLUES

Why Do Women Have the Blues More Than Men?



Are not women naturally as light-hearted, brave, and hopeful as men?

Yes; but woman's organism is different from man's.

Women in perfect or good health are rarely victims of this symptom.

Women nearly monopolize the blues, because their peculiar ailments promote them.

When the female organs fail to perform their functions properly, when the dreaded female complaints appear, there is shown nervousness, sleeplessness, faintness, backache, headache, bearing down pains, etc., causing the dreaded "let-me-alone" and "all-gone" feelings.

When the woman does not understand what the matter is, and her doctor can not or will not tell her, she grows morose and melancholy; that's the blues.

"I am happy to say your Vegetable Compound has cured me. "My suffering every month was dreadful. The doctor gave me morphine to ease the pain, but nothing to cure me; and I was obliged to spend two or three days in bed. Now I have no pain at all.

"I can work harder, and be on my feet longer, than I have for years. I cannot praise your medicine enough. I am glad to tell every one that I was cured by Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Our druggist says there is a great demand for your medicine here."

MRS. PHELPS' REVELATION.

BY CHARLES E. REED.

"Madam, I need help; won't you give me something?" The question was addressed to Mrs. Phelps, who had just entered her carriage.

"No, I've no money to waste on lazy vagabonds!" was her sharp reply as the carriage door slammed shut.

Mrs. Phelps, a wealthy young widow, prominent in fashionable society, was in an unpleasant frame of mind. She had just visited three of the largest stores in the city in a vain search for a certain costly fabric, and now felt that she was an exceedingly unfortunate and most ill-used individual. Presently the carriage drew up before another store, which Mrs. Phelps entered after instructing her four-year-old son to remain seated in the carriage until her return. Master Phelps was very obedient for about three minutes. Then his attention was attracted by something which appealed to him quite as strongly as to a less aristocratic juvenile—the antics of a monkey under charge of a peripatetic musician. Standing on tiptoe, he laid his hands against the door, which, having been accidentally left unfastened, yielded to the pressure and partly opened; and in a very short time the young gentleman was out of the carriage and half-way across the street. Then, in an instant, there was a hoarse cry of warning, a woman's shriek—and something grasped the boy, swung him from right in front of a runaway team, and laid him, frightened and screaming, in his mother's arms.

After she had soothed the child and put him into the carriage, Mrs. Phelps turned to the rather shabbily-dressed man to whose agility her son's rescue was due.

"You have saved my Arthur's life!" she exclaimed. "Come to-morrow to my residence and name your reward. Meanwhile, take this;" and she handed him a $20 gold piece.

But the man refused the proffered gold.

"Why should you reward a lazy vagabond? That is what you called me a bit ago when I asked you for something," he remarked.

Mrs. Phelps looked at him closely and recognized him.

"I was out of humor," she explained. "Pardon what I said, and tell me how I can assist you."

"Madam, you've invited me to come to your home. If you'd do me a kindness, come to mine instead."

Mrs. Phelps looked at him in amazement.

"I can hardly do that," she said. "I would much rather—"

"As you please, madam. I'm glad I was able to rescue your child. If you're glad, I wish you'd visit my home. It isn't much to ask."

"What is your name, and where do you live?"

He said his name was James Thompson, and named an obscure street as his address.

"After I've taken my child home, I'll call and see you," said Mrs. Phelps.

"I'll be there by the time you are," he responded.

An hour later Mrs. Phelps, accompanied by a trusty servant, having driven into a narrow street, entered a most uninviting tenement, and ascended three flights of rickety, filthy stairs, was admitted to a small attic room, lighted by a single window. The floor was carpetless. A cracked stove, an old table, a large box which served as a cupboard, a bed, and two or three broken-backed chairs, were the only furniture. But though so bare and comfortless, the room was clean. Upon the scantily covered bed lay two persons—a woman of perhaps 35 and a little girl of about six—both evidently ill and both sleeping uneasily.

"I asked you to come here because I wanted you to see this," said Thompson in a low voice. "This"—with a comprehensive wave of the hand—"is my home. You see all my furniture—except what's at the pawnshop. I have no fire, and no fuel to make it with; no food, and no money to buy it with. I have a little medicine left by the doctor, but none of the comforts needed by my sick wife and child. This, madam, is why I asked you for help this morning."

Mrs. Phelps covered her face.

"How long have you been in this deplorable condition?" asked Mrs. Phelps.

"To-day is the first I've had to beg," was the reply; "something I'd have thrown myself into the river rather than do if it hadn't been for them. But I couldn't see them starve. I came to the city five years and more ago," he added after a moment's pause. "I had bad luck, for work was dull. From having a little house by ourselves, we were obliged to move here, and then my wife, who was a good seamstress, succeeded in getting men's trousers to make at 18 cents a pair."

"Eighteen cents a pair!" exclaimed Mrs. Phelps.

"Yes; but the price soon fell to 15 cents, and as I was out of employment, I helped with the sewing. By working from early morning till late at night we managed to earn enough to pay our rent and buy sufficient food to keep us from starving. But the rates went down, down, down, to 13, to 12, even to ten cents a pair."

"What! Ten cents for making a pair of trousers? Who is mean enough to pay such wages as that?"

"The great clothing firm of Phelps & Co., madam!"

"Phelps & Co.! Impossible!"

"The firm, madam, of which your husband was the head. I wonder if, when he gave largely to some library, church or hospital, he ever thought of the poor wretches who toiled day and night, summer and winter, with aching eyes, weary fingers and hungry stomachs, that the mill which ground out his money might turn him out a good-sized grist! I can take you to half a dozen families in this very house who make trousers for Phelps & Co., at the same prices, and who, like us, have finished coats at from five to ten cents each, and make knee pants at 16 to 18 cents a dozen pairs."

"Eighteen cents a dozen pairs! You don't mean that?"

"Yes, madam, I do. When Phelps & Co. pay ten cents for making a pair of trousers which sells for five dollars, is it any wonder that the firm prospers exceedingly, and that your husband was able to give away his thousands?"

"This is a revelation to me," said Mrs. Phelps. "I cannot see how you managed to exist at all."

"It's been a hard, hard struggle," replied Thompson. "With the aid of our little girl—for she has been sewing ever since she was four years old—we were occasionally able to earn a dollar in a day; but that was seldom. We had to pay a dollar and a quarter per week for this room, and hardly ever had more than four dollars a week to feed, clothe and warm the three of us. But for the last six months the child has been ill. Ten days ago my wife took sick, and because of having to wait on her and the child I was able to do so little sewing that the foreman got angry the other day and refused to give me any more work. Besides, we have been falling behind with the rent, and only yesterday I received notice that if I don't pay up by the end of the week I and my sick family must leave."

"Outrageous! Who is your landlord?"

Thompson took a paper from his pocket, and, remarking that it was his last receipt, handed it to Mrs. Phelps, who, after a single glance, started, and then stood staring at it in open-mouthed astonishment. For her own name was affixed to the receipt!

"What!" she ejaculated, as soon as she could find her voice. "This house—mine?"

"So it seems."

"This is my agent's work," said Mrs. Phelps, half to herself. "And he would have turned you into the street! Horrible!"

She opened her pocket and took out some bills.

"Mr. Thompson," she said, "I thank you for insisting that I should come here. You have opened my eyes to some things I was blind to before. Take this—it is only a very small part of the heavy debt I owe you. Buy fuel, food, clothing, furniture, medicines—whatever you and your sick family most require. Spend it freely, but pay no rent; this room shall never cost you another cent."

"God bless you, madame!" Thompson exclaimed, his eyes filling with tears. "I take your gifts now with a glad and thankful heart. I felt sure that all you needed was to see and understand. But, oh, remember that there are others in this house almost as badly off as you found me."

Upon reaching home Mrs. Phelps went to her room and shut herself in. Her visit to James Thompson had indeed been a revelation to her. How had she discharged the responsibility which the possession of great wealth carries with it? By lavishing money on flowers, music, rich viands and the like, when so many were lacking the necessaries of life. And, most humiliating thought of all, much of the very wealth which she enjoyed had been earned for her by those same starving poor. Theirs it was—not hers—if justice were done. In her humiliation she knelt and offered what was, perhaps, the first real prayer that had risen from her lips for a long time; a prayer in which she craved pardon for the thoughtlessness, selfishness and frivolity of the past, and consecrated her wealth to the service of Christ and of those concerning whom He said: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these * * * ye have done it unto Me."

A year has passed. James Thompson with his wife and daughter, both of whom have been restored to health, are living in a neat, pleasant house, the gift of Mrs. Phelps, through whose instrumentality Thompson has procured lucrative employment. The year has witnessed some other changes, too—especially in the real estate owned by Mrs. Phelps. Very promptly she called upon her agent and gave that individual some instructions which fairly took his breath away. She obtained from him a list of all tenements owned by her, and then set to work to systematically visit each house and the families occupying it. Such poverty, squalor and degradation as she encountered! As a result of this inspection, she ordered a general reduction of the rents, a thorough cleaning of all the houses and numerous repairs, while some crazy habitations she ordered to be demolished.

Phelps & Co. no longer pay starvation wages to their employes. Mrs. Phelps' husband had bequeathed her a controlling interest in the firm, and one day she startled the other partners by proposing a heavy increase in the rates paid for making up clothing. They demurred, and said that such an increase would bankrupt the firm. But Mrs. Phelps persisted in her demand, and finally induced the senior partner to accompany her to the abodes of some of the people employed by the firm. They had not visited many places when he said he had seen quite enough.

"How do you suppose the patronage of Phelps & Co. would be affected," asked Mrs. Phelps, "if our customers were aware that their new garments had been lying a few hours before on the dirty floor of a tenement or on the bed of a child sick with a contagious disease?"

Being unable to answer this question satisfactorily, both partners quietly submitted to the inevitable. The wages were raised, and, far from becoming bankrupt, the firm of Phelps & Co. is more prosperous than ever. And Mrs. Phelps to-day is a very cheerful, happy woman—far happier than when she was a devotee at the altar of fashion. For she knows that she has the smile of Him to whom she has consecrated not only her wealth and her time, but herself.—N. Y. Observer.

The Near-Sighted Woman.

What a curious manifestation of vanity it is which prevents a near-sighted woman from wearing glasses. One such woman was a member of a party that took a trip over the Rockies. She heard the others exclaiming over the beauties of the landscape through which they were passing. Not wishing to be behindhand: "Look! look there!" she presently exclaimed, "isn't that exquisite? What a picturesque ruin!" The "picturesque ruin" turned out to be a stable or a barn painted with: "Use Pain's Painless Plaster, etc." Undeterred by one such error she raved in ecstasy over the loveliness of some "stunning woman," until a kind-hearted companion checked her by pointing out that the fair one was an antique guy with a wig.—N. Y. Herald.

IN THE QUICKSANDS.

BY H. IRVINE LYNDS.

We were all sitting around the cozy fireplace in my friend's study, telling hunting experiences. The wind was blowing outside with just enough force to give the windows a ghostly rattle, and make the blaze roar up the chimney in a way that lent an added charm to stories into which the element of danger largely entered.

We had all dutifully told some old-time adventure—with certain additions that seemed absolutely necessary under the circumstances—all except our host, who had been given the last place on the list, so that the series might close robed in the richest coloring.

He was a hunter of wide and varied experience and a man who had given a great deal of intelligent thought to the mysteries of woodcraft. Consequently, whatever he said upon the subject was always listened to with deference.

We therefore settled down a little more comfortably in our chairs as he began:

"In my younger days I spent more time in the woods than I do now. Not that I like hunting less. It has as great attraction for me as ever, the odor of the woods is as sweet to me as the scent of powder is to the old war horse; but many things claim my time now and keep me from wandering.

"The little adventure I am about to tell happened in Nova Scotia, 20 years ago, when I was quite a young man.

"It is not generally known that certain parts of the province contain some of the finest hunting grounds imaginable. Miles and miles of virgin forest, acres of spruce and pine averaging fully 60 feet in height, crowded together on moss-green groundwork, almost close enough to shut out daylight. Then there are parts overrun with high maples, birch and beech.

"Many a day have I crept through the deep, shady glades and over the long, sloping hills. But I am rather wandering from my story.

"I'll just show you where my adventure happened."

Raising, he took down an atlas from a shelf.

"Just here at the north," he continued. "See that headland? That's the place. Twice a day all the water in the basin seems to rush around that point, and away up into the mainland.

"It is marsh land along there, and the point is called Minudie marsh. It is a very large tract of land, said to contain 5,000 acres, shut in from the sea by nine miles of dyke. It is perfectly level, dotted all over with barns and haystacks; and in the autumn also with men and horses, busily at work cutting 'broad leaf' or marsh hay.

"One not acquainted with the place could easily become lost, for the barns and haystacks, extending in every direction, are all alike in size, shape and color. It was near this marsh that I had located myself for the hunting season, on account of the excellent sport which it afforded in the shape of almost every kind of water fowl, and also because not many miles away were woods in which moose and caribou were plentiful.

"The autumn that year had been very dry, so that there were, comparatively speaking, no birds on the marsh. Without knowing this, however, I one day set out for a few hours' shooting.

"I tramped the best part of the afternoon, without success, and, as I did not care to go home without bagging something, I determined to shoot 'peep' on the mud flats.

"I rolled up my trousers to the knee and started, sinking fully six inches in the soft mud at every step. I walked about for some time, getting a shot now and then and wandering far out upon the flats, until a rushing noise behind made me turn quickly around.

"The 'bore' was coming—a bank of tumbling, seething water, quite three feet high, tearing about as fast as a man could run. 'Time to be getting back,' thought I. 'It will not take long for the tide to cover the flats.' I stood and watched the tidal wave for a moment, then started quite leisurely for the dyke, shaping my course directly for it.

"After having gone 50 yards or so, I came to a gully, between eight and ten feet wide, at the bottom of which flowed a little stream. It ran nearly parallel with the dyke, and in order to reach the marsh I had either to cross it or go away up and around. Not caring to lengthen my disagreeable tramp—for it was no fun dragging one's feet out of the mud at every step—I decided to hold my original course. The sides of the gully looked soft and treacherous, but by taking a running jump I thought I could clear the dangerous part.

"I stepped back a few paces, and, firmly grasping the gun, started. I had miscalculated the effect the bad footing would have, and saw my mistake the moment I sprang; but too late!

"I landed on the other side of the stream, in what seemed to me the softest part of the mud. My weight and the impetus of my jump drove me into the mud knee-deep.

"At first I was inclined to laugh at my plight, but that feeling speedily gave way to one of anxiety, when I realized that I was swiftly sinking.

"I endeavored to draw my feet out, but when I tried to lift one the other went further down. A cold sweat broke out on my forehead. I was in a bed of quicksand!

"I struggled with all my strength, but it was useless. There seemed to be an undercurrent of sand that was continually slipping away from my feet. Against that terrible power it was useless to fight.

"I had heard and read of people dying in this horrible manner, but never before had the chilling awfulness of it struck me with any degree of force. Now, as I thought of being drawn slowly down, down inch by inch, in imagination I could feel the cold, wet mud creeping, like some gruesome reptile about my neck, higher, higher—over my chin; over my tightly-closed lips, until my breath—. I tell you a man's mind rushes when he gets so near the border!

"I shouted for help, in the hope of attracting some one, but it only exhausted me, and my struggles caused me to sink faster.

"In extreme agony of mind, I threw myself on my face—I had sunk below my waist—and clawed the bank in a frantic endeavor to draw myself out. My fingers slipped through the soft mud and touched some hard, smooth substance, buried about three inches below the surface.

"I struggled to grasp it, but it was too large for my fingers to grip. It was a tree that had probably grounded on the flat long ago, and the tides had gradually drifted the sand over it.

"When one is in a position of great bodily danger, events succeed one another much more rapidly than they can be afterward told. The telling of this has taken a great deal longer time than its actual occurrence. A few minutes only had passed since I started toward the dyke.

"The sound of the tide now rushing over the lower part of the flats called me to a sense of new danger.

"Even if I was able to keep from sinking for a little while, the red water would soon rise over the place of my imprisonment and complete what the quicksands had so surely begun.

"'Drowning is said to be the easiest of deaths,' thought I, though any kind was preferable to being smothered in soxy quicksand.

"In the water, too, I could at least struggle—fight for life. But in that narrow, clinging grasp, every limb bound as with elastic cords, allowing freedom only to the extent of simply maddening one, caught like a miserable fly in a spider's web, I would not even have the satisfaction of struggling.

"The feeling of fear that first possessed me gradually left, or maybe numbed my senses, and in its place came strange fancies, such as one dreams when lying half awake.

"The sun seemed beating its piercing rays into my brain. The hoarse cry of a raven far up in the sky came faintly to me. I pictured him and his mate, dark specks showing against a background of white clouds, floating—floating and watching.

"I wondered if the peck of a raven's beak on one's head would hurt much—if they were up there waiting for me to die. Then I remembered that before I was dead I would be buried!

"I smiled grimly at the thought of cheating them. But if they came before? Instinctively I felt for my knife. I could keep them off with it. My knife! Like a flash came the thought that it would be a means of rescue.

"The cloud of fancies seemed to lift from my brain. With trembling fingers, I hurriedly drew it out and opened it. It was the kind known among schoolboys as 'toadstabber,' stout and strong.

"Hopefully, with one hand, I felt for the tree; but I had sunk so far in the mud that it was now beyond my reach. A groan burst through my clenched teeth, as my last hope fled.

"It seemed as if I must give up. But life is sweet—so sweet to one about to lose it. One more effort, then—a requiem chanted by the waves and flung landward by the winds.

"Making a violent struggle, I thrust my hand that held the knife as far forward as I could and struck down with all my strength.

"The tree must have been lying obliquely along the sides of the gully, so that my left hand had not been able to reach it; but my right, in which was the knife, had found it. The blade sank into the soft, half-decayed wood. Slipping my hand down as closely to the tree as possible, so as not to pull the knife out, and placing my left hand over my right, to give myself greater purchase, I pulled. Slowly, almost imperceptibly, the dreadful sucking power was lessened—was stopped! Slowly my arms bent—I was gaining! Wrenching the knife out, I drove it in farther up the trunk, repeating this again and again, for I was able to draw myself only a few inches at a time, until I finally lay my length over the tree—saved!

"I had thrown the gun high up on the flat when I first found that I was fast. Recovering it now, I gained the dyke, to fall weak and trembling on the grass. I lay there until the tide had risen to the dyke. Then washing the mud out of my clothes I spread them in the sun to dry. When I had finished it was flood tide, the water was still and smooth as a mirror, except where here and there mounds of amber-colored foam or a piece of driftwood broke the surface.

"I shuddered as my eyes, drawn by a strange fascination, sought out the spot, now covered by many feet of water, where a short time before I had so narrowly escaped a terrible death.

"When I reached my boarding house, tired and hungry, the harvest moon was shining brightly. I thought with a shudder of the cold white glitter of the wet sands, and how nearly that night her beams had rested on my grave."—Golden Days.

ON THE EUROPEAN STAGE.

Toole's theater in London is to be torn down to make room for an addition to Charing Cross hospital.

Italy is more celebrated for its theaters than any other country in Europe. The theaters at Naples, Parma and Milan are the largest in Europe.

On Mardi Gras, with a matinee programme made up of Moliere's "Les Femmes Savantes" and "M. de Pourceaugnac," the Comedie Francaise took in 8,825 francs, the largest sum for one performance in its history.

Salvini recently made a reappearance on the stage of the Teatro Valle at Rome at a benefit for dramatic artists. The play was "Othello," the great tragedian, who seemed to have lost none of his power, acting the part of the Moor to the Iago of Ermete Novelli.

"Grosse Fortune," Henri Meilhac's new comedy at the Theater Francais, has had only a succes d'estime. It turns on the efforts of a young wife to win back her husband, who loves her, but has gone astray on account of suddenly coming into a great deal of money.

—Aaron Burr resigned from the provincial army by reason of ill health in 1789. In 1800 he and Jefferson each had seventy-three electoral votes for the office of president of the United States. The choice was thus left to congress, which, on the thirty-sixth ballot, chose Jefferson for president and Burr for vice president.

FRIDAY, - - - - JULY 31, 1896.

ONE of our Republican contemporaries sees "danger theratening our free institutions" when "one of the great parties recognizes such men as William J. Bryan and Senator Jones as leaders." Doubtless it prefers for leaders that brand of patriots of which Senator Quay and Tom Platt are conspicuous types.

IN the Republican national platform of 1888 we find this declaration on the money question: "The Republican party is in favor of both gold and silver as money." Four years later the national assemblage of that party declared that: "The American people, from tradition, and interest, favor bimetallism and the Republican party demands the use of both gold and silver as standard money." How about that "tradition and interest" now.

SECRETARY CARLISLE said, Feb. 21, 1878: "The conspiracy which seems to have been formed here and in Europe to destroy by legislation and otherwise from three sevenths to one-half of the metalic money of the world, is the most gigantic crime of this or any other age. The consumation of such a scheme would ultimately entail more misery upon the human race than all the wars, pestilence and famines that ever occured in the history of the world."

The Republican papers are publishing column after column of interviews with bankers, brokers, railroad presideats and millionaires who declare their intention to bolt the Chicago convention and vote for McKinley. Bad as free silver is, according to the Republican press, this policy is likely to strenghten the white metal cause. The fact is, the free silver people don't want the support of the brokers and railroad presidents and it will be good news to them to learn that they will bolt.

FROM 1792 up to February 12 1873, silver in this country had the right of free coinage at the United States mints, the same as gold and during that time there was particularly no flunctuation in the parity of the two metals. The greatest difference known in the market price in silver and gold bullion, at the ratio of 16 to 1, in that period was two per cent., which was owing to special causes. An experiment of 81 years fully justifies the belief that free coinage would again restore the parity not only between money but property in general.

IN a recent interview, Senator Jones, chairman of the Democratic national committee said: "The eastern papers which are belittling this movement are simply doing now what they have done in the past. They are not hurting us, and they are deceiving their own people. We have strengthened our platform by our nominees, and we are certain to win. Illinois, Indiana and Iowa are safely Democratic, and the east is debatable ground. Not only will we elect our president and vice president, but we will have a majority of the next house of representatives, even if we do not get a single congressman out of the eastern states."

THE Democratic state committee of New York, met at the Hoffman house in New York city on Wednesday and at a session lasting only 10 minutes decided to call the convention for the nomination of state officers to meet at Buffalo on September 16. No other business was considered at the meeting. Prior to the meeting, several of the leaders among the committeemen were questioned as to the probable action of the state convention in regard to the candidates and platform of the national convention, recently held at Chicago. The general sentiment, was that the candidates will be indorsed but on the subject of the platform there was less unanimity.

THE cost of the division encampment of the National Guard at Lewistown will foot up not less than $200,000. The pay of the troops alone aggregates $139,139,94. The First brigade has received of this amount $42,006.92 and the Third brigade $42,722 01. The balance goes to the Second brigade and general division head quarters. The cost of transporting the troops and their supplies to and from Lewistown will amount to at least $40,000. The subsistence bills and the bills for horse hire and other necessaries will aggregate $35,000 or $40,000. These bills will be paid by General Stewart as soon as they have been received and approved by the military board. The state makes an annual appropriation of $325,000 for the support of the National Guard.

THE army worm is a species of caterpillar. It hatches from an egg deposited from the night-flying moth. Like the moth, the caterpillar prefers the night for labor and ordinarily remains quiet during the day. The hot sun is distasteful to the worms, and they die if exposed to it for a considerable time.

The moth that lays the eggs is nearly one inch long and is one and three-quarters inches from tip to tip of wing. The eggs are deposited in rows of from fifteen to thirty near the roots of grass and grain where they will be protected. More than 700 eggs have been found in the body of a moth when dissected. So earnestly does the female work while laying eggs that she dies after two nights of hard labor. The worms hatch a week or ten days after the eggs are laid, the time depending somewhat on the climate. When their lives as caterpillars are ended they burrow into the ground and remain there until spring, when they emerge as moths to lay eggs to produce more worms.

FROM time to time, says the Altoona Times, we see rumors of a threatened bolt of the gold standard Democrats against the Chicago platform and nominations of Messrs Bryan and Sewall. A conference of a few of these gentlemen was recently held in Chicago and it was decided to organize a national committee and call a convention to be held not later than September. 2 to nominate candidates for president and vice president. It is possible that such a body may meet. But if it does it will not amount to much for the reason that there is no popular support back of the bolters. The gold Democrats number but a small percentage of the membership of the Democratic party. But, small as that percentage is, the majority of them wil refuse to oppose the regular ticket and help to elect McKinley. Even if they cannot endorse the platform, they are not prepared to play into the hands of an organization whose ascendency in the affairs of the nation they object to for other reasons than those connected with the currency question.

There are thousands of men who advocated the gold standard who have loyally accepted the decision of the Chicago convention from a firm conviction that the Democratic party will do nothing to injure the country that it has done so much for in the past hundred years. They believe that the majority should rule and that an adherence to that principle will generally be found the best thing in the end.

It is impossible to frame a platform for a party numbering millions of members that will please everyone of them. Some will be disappointed because a certain declaration was not put in the document and another will be displeased for the reason that the platform calls for something which he cannot approve. It is needless to point out, therefore, why a platform cannot have general acceptance in all its details. It represents, however, the opinions of the majority on all the subjects considered.

But apart from these considerations, the coprsention of the gold standard Democrats, if it should meet, will be nothing more than a ripple of the political waters. It will hardly be noticed. The nominations of Bryan and Sewall and the adoption of the Chicago platform are proving to be decidedly popular, and the current of popular favor which has set in for the Democratic candidates and platform cannot be checked by a demonstration to the contrary.

SOME of the flopping eastern Democratic papers are making great ado over the patriotism of the eastern bankers in coming to the rescue of the government by replenishing the treasury gold reserve from their private hordes. Patriotism, indeed. These flopdoddle papers do not tell their readers that these patriotic bankers and money mongers take from the government in exchange for their gold government paper that is redeemable in the yellow metal. If England or any other European country would make a demand to-morrow on these same, patriotic gentlemen for gold they would present their paper at the national treasury and ship the gold abroad.

Their patriotism is simply nothing more nor less than a political dodge. Were we not on the eve of the presidencial campaign, with the money question as the issue, these patriotic bankers and money mongers would show their patriotism by inducing the government to make another bond issue to replenish the federal treasury and out of which they would make a big profit. This is patriotism with a vengeance, isn't it.

IN order to correct a misapprehension as to his views regarding the prospective result of the election of a free silver ticket, the Hon. Richard P. Bland writes to the New York Journal:

"I have been quoted as saying that if free silver won in the coming election there would be in my opinion a short lived panic. This is a mistake. In my judgment the success of a free silver ticket would bring nothing but prosperity. There would be no sort of a panic. Even Mr. Carlisle, our secretary of the treasury, admits that the restoration of silver would cause a rise in the value of all commodities. The congestion of money in the general centres would be relieved, owing to the desire of capitalists to invest in the rising market. With money flowing from the glutted coffers of the rich into the various channels of trade there would be great financial activity. This condition would preclude the possibility of a panic. Panics are not born of active trade, numerous investments and circulating currency."

TREASURER W. P. ST. JOHN, of the national committee has applied in New York for the use of Madison Square garden for Wednesday, August 12, for the Bryan notification meeting. He was told that he could, likely, have it that day but that the matter would be presented for the consideration of the board of directors. Treasurer St John was notified that if he got the garden it would probably be on the same terms that it was leased to the national Democratic committee in 1892, when Cleveland and Stevenson were notified. The price paid at that time was $1,800. Mr. St. John was also told that his national committee would have to give bonds for between $3,000 and $4,000 to make good any possible damage the property might suffer from enthusiastic Democrats.

NEW YORK is to have a new and tall palace hotel that will cost $2,000,000. The plans were submitted to the department of buildings for the erection of such a fifteen-story structure on the northeast corner of Broadway and Thirty-seventh streets, extendidg te Thirty-eight street The new hotel will be called the Hobart estate hotel. It will be of steel skeleton construction on a rock and concrete foundation. The fronts of the new building will be of brick and granite and coped with terra cotta, to be topped by a flat roof.

Washington Letter.

Washington, July 24th, 1896.—Senator Faulkner, chairman of the Democratic congressional committee, is being daily astonished at the extraordinary increase in silver sentiment in the middle and eastern states, as shown by letters written to the committee asking for information and literature on the subject. He is also surprised to see that a majority of these seekers after silver documents, instead of being farmers, are professional and business men residing in towns and cities. Speaking on the subject Senator Faulkner said: "I am astounded at the tone of some of the letters I am receiving, and it appears to me that the silver wave is sweeping over the east with as much force as it has shown in the west and south. It may be permanent or it may be only temporary, but that it exists now is certain." Senator Faulkner is not the sort of man to allow his enthusiasm to bias his judgment; hence his declaration of his belief, that unless some great reaction takes place, which will change existing public sentiment before election day, Bryan will be elected by a large malority, carries great weight.

Representative Hart, of Pa,. says his district (the eighht) will roll up a good majority for Bryan and Sewall. He says there are very few Democrats in the district who have said they would not support the Chicago ticket and platform, but that a great many Republicans have come out for Bryan and Sewall and free silver. He says that the tariff question cuts no figure at all among his people, but that they are all anxious to learn everything possible about the silver question. It was largely to satisfy their yearnings in that line that Mr. Hart came to Washington. He has arranged with the congressional committee to send a lot of silver literature to his constituents. Among the documents to be sent is the Chicago speech of Mr. Bryan, which Senator Faulkner says "is about the best statement of the silver question from our standpoint, that has been made."

Hon. William J. Hendrick, ex-Attorney General of Kentucky, said in Washington this week: "In the fierce contest that has been waged in Kentucky between the gold and silver partisans my voice and influence have ever been on the side of sound money. I still adhere to the opinion that free silver coinage by this government, independently, of the other great nations, would be a mistake. But I am a Democrat, and Democracy stands for so many other things besides free silver that it is impossible for me to renounce my party allegience, and I shall cheerfully do all in my power to promote the success of the Chicago ticket. With all the faults of the platform it is infinitely better than McKinleyism. Bryan and Sewall will unquestionably carry Kentucky."

There is some talk about establishing a Democratic daily newspaper in Washington which will support Bryan and Sewall and the Chicago platform. Perhaps such a paper might make some votes, but, in my opinion, it would not make one per cent of the votes that could be made by spending the amount of money that it would cost to run a Washington daily during the campaign in circulating the Democratic dailies and weeklies already established and enjoying more prestige in their localities than a Washington paper could possibly get.

Mr. S. D. Weaver, city attorney of Burlington, Kans., who is now visiting Washington, says: "It is the opinion of conservative men that Bryan will carry Kansas. It is true that some Democrats who believe in sound money will not support him, and yet more of these will vote for him than will support McKinley. There are also a great many silver Republicans in the state who will vote for Bryan."

Theatrical men are as a rule good judges of the drift of public sentiment. Mr. J. W. Morrisey, widely known as a manager, says of a coming event: Bryan's descent on New York will be a stupendous affair. He will pack Madison Square Garden to its limit—16,000 people—but 10,000 more will be in the streets to give him welcome. Only a fraction of that monster gathering will be able to hear a word he utters, but few will fail to read it afterwards. Already there is a big chance of sentiment in New York favorable to silver, and Bryan's coming will make converts by the thousand."

While it cannot be said that the action of the populist convention was altogether satisfactory to Democrats, none of them are disposed to worry about it, because their minds were made up before the convention met that Bryan would get the vote of every Populist who does not wish to throw his vote away, regardless of what the convention might do, and there was nothing about the work of the convention to cause them to change their opinion. May Result Fatally.

Pottsville, Pa., July 26.—At midnight last night two Italians named Levy Denorda and Joe Wallendo attacked William Travis. Wallendo used a knife, cutting Travis's nose off, and stabbed him in the right arm and left side, near the lung. During the fight Denorda struck Travis with a stone. Both Italians were committed to prison without bail. Travis, whose injuries are considered fatal, was removed to the hospital. For some time past a bad feeling had existed between the families of Edward Martin and William Snyder, who reside at Gilberton, this county. Last evening a quarrel arose between them. Martin seized a double barreled shot gun and fired at Snyder and his wife, who stood in the yard. Their injuries are not serious. Martin entered bail in the sum of $1,000.

Miners Compelled to Return Home.

Barclay, Ills., July 26.—A mob of 200 striking miners from the mining districts of Reverton and Spaulding, Ill., marched to this place yesterday and compelled the miners to return home. They would not allow the men to go to work on account of a reduction of 35 cents per ton to 32½ cents per ton. The Barclay miners agreed to work no more until next Tuesday. An effort is being made to call out all the miners in this district, and a large mass meeting will be held in Spaulding on Monday to take action on the matter. It is said that the miners will resume work to-morrow morning, and serious trouble is expected if they do.

Flood Damage in Pennsylvania.

Pittsburg, July 27.—The Monongahela and Allegheny valleys were flood swept on Saturday. The two rivers were twenty-two feet nine inches high at Pittsburg in the evening, but the waters have now receded. Every stream and creek north of the Ohio and West of the mountains was out of its banks. In western Pennsylvania alone the damage will be hardly covered by $5,000,000. In this city low lying districts were submerged. Coal craft of all kinds broke loose during the day, and much has gone to the bottom.

Two Were Swept Away.

Bellaire, O., July 26.—Mrs. Mary Long, aged 43 years, and her daughter, Daisy, aged 17 years, were drowned this evening in the Ohio river near the mouth of the McMechan creek. They were in a small boat with two young men, Thomas Bennet and William Francis, and while passing the snag boat, E A. Woodruff, where the current runs swiftly, were drawn under the wheel, the boat being capsized and crushed by the paddles.

Bennett and Francis grasped the wheel, and the two women seized the former, while Francis swam ashore. Bennett maintained his grasp on the wheel for some time, the women clinging to him, but Mrs. Long became exhausted and relaxed her hold. The fierce current quickly swept her away, and the daughter presently followed. Bennett, relieved of the weight, was able to draw himself upon the wheel, and after a short rest gained the shore.

The water at this point is 35 feet deep, and it was thought useless to make any effort to night to recover the bodies Sylvester Long, the husband and father, was down the river fishing when the tragedy occurred, and no word could be gotten to him. There is another daughter and two sons in the family.

The captain and crew of the Woodruff did all in their power to rescue the party, but were unable to lend effective aid. This is the first case of drowning here for eight years.

Escaped Convicts Fired Upon.

Chambersburg, July 26.—Roach and Hutchison, two of the young convicts who ten days ago overpowered and gagged Keeper Nepps, of the Huntingdon Reformatory and escaped, are hiding in the mountains of this country, though hotly pursued. Young Walton, of Altoona, the other of the absconding trio, who has been returned to the institution by his father, says that Roach and Hutchison wanted to drown the keeper after they had tied him, but that he prevented them. Walton left the others because they talked of killing any one who tried to retake them.

Roach and Hutchison last week stole a horse near Orbisonia, robbed several stores in that town and then came into this county. They were seen several times, and on Thursday evening the chief of police of Huntingdon arrived in Fannettsburg in search of them. In company with Ex-Sheriff Jones, of this county, the chief came upon the men near Fannettsburg, but they escaped through a cornfield, though fired at by both officers. The same night the fugitives crossed the mountain into Fulton county, but returned again, as they were yesterday seen in Horse Valley. One is wounded in the back.

All Had Pistols.

Hold-up robbers are at work at the Desplaines campmeeting grounds When all the campers had retired last night. A. Benson, the janitor of the colony, was approached by three suspicious looking strangers, who requested tickets entitling them to free bunks in the sleeping tents. The request was granted, but the janitor, not liking the appearance of his guests, kept a strict watch on them. They entered the tent about 10:20 o'clock and extinguished the lamps, saying, when remonstrated with, that the light hurt their eyes. Believing their object was to rob the other occupants during the night, the janitor called the night watchman and explained the situation. The men were ordered to leave the tent, but refused. One of them drew a revolver, but before it could be used Watchman Minnick struck it from his hand and ejected him and his companions from the grounds. All of the men were found to have pistols, and the police believe they intended robbing the entire camp.

Strange Law Suit.

The case of W. S. Woods vs. Issabella Sheets, decided by Judge McIlvane at Washington this week, is probably unique in court history. Woods bought two lots at Charleroi from Mrs. Shee's and built on them, as he supposed; but it turned out that he made a mistake and built on two lots that Peter Neshon, of Manor Station, owned. He refused to pay for the houses, allow them to be removed or sell the lots, and Woods sued Mrs. Sheets.

The court decided that, in the absence of any covenant in the deed that the lots staked off are the same as those sold. Woods cannot recover; that all he could recover would be the purchase money of the lot, and not for any subsequent improvement; but that, as he still has the two lots purchased—Nos. 634 and 636—he has no standing at all, and judgment is given for the defendant. It is certainly a very peculiar case, and Mr. Woods has sustained loss in a novel manner.

Mistaken For a Burglar.

Chicago, July 26.—Daniel Shroyer, a well-known resident of Park Ridge, was shot and killed early this morning by his son-in-law, Geo. E. Pottinger, a prominent Chicago real estate dealer who mistook him for a burglar. The shooting took place in Pottinger's home in Ingleside avenue.

Mr. Shroyer had been a guest at the Pottinger homestead for several weeks. Mr. Pottinger was aroused at 3 o'clcok his morning, and thinking burglars were abroad, took his revolver and started to investigate. He was about to enter the kitchen when he saw the form of a man approaching and raising his revolver fired one shot. The man gave vent to a startled exclamation, and Mr. Pottinger recognized his father-in-law's voice. The bullet struck Mr. Shroyer, in the groin and he died in an hour. The greatest excitement followed the shooting. Mr. Pottinger is almost distracted and his wife is prostrated.

Man and Wife Fatally Shot.

Shenandoah, Pa., July 27.—A double tragedy occured at Gilberton, a small town two miles from this place, Saturday afternoon, Edward Martin, a resident of that place, shooting and mortally wounding William Snyder and his wife. Martin and Snyder were neighbors and the two families quarreled frequently. A dispute arose between them over some trivial matter and the two men came to blows. Martin rushed in to the house, and securing a double barreled shotgun returned to the yard, where Snyder and his wife were still standing, and emptied both barrels at them. Both fell, and Martin escaped.

ROBED FOR DEATH.

Merrymakers In White Are Drowned at Cecil, Pa.

HOUSES SWEPT AWAY BY A FLOOD.

The Recent Cloudburst Carried a Hotel Into a Raging Creek—Seven Out of 13 Drowned—Were Waiting to Go to a Dance When the House Was Struck.

PITTSBURG, July 29.—The cloudburst and storm in this section caused more loss of life than was at first supposed.

At Cecil, in Washington county, 13 people laughing and singing in Samuel McKinney's house, found themselves in the twinkling of an eye, in a seething mad swirl of water. Seven of the merrymakers were drowned.

The dead are:
Mrs. Grace McKinney, aged 50.
Miss Maggie McKinney, aged 20.
James McKinney, aged 8.
F. Clyde Beatty, aged 26.
J. C. Higgins, aged 50.
Miss Jennie Holmes, aged 18.
Vincent Wilkinson of Oil City, aged 26.

In the McKinney household on the fateful night, 13 merry people were congregated. The girls were dressed in flowing white robes. They were going to a dance at the French hall, but the hour for starting had not yet come.

It is said that the cloud burst somewhere about Vienna and swept toward Reissing and Cecil, the water came down in torrents.

The country between Vienna and Cecil is sloping, and McKinney's eight-roomed hotel stood just in that position where it would catch the full force of the storm.

The race of the flour mill nearby broke and struck the house with a fearful blow. The force and momentum lifted the house from its foundations, twisted it around and sent it into the middle of the furious creek.

The house flew down the stream and passed the railroad station and struck the bridge, 200 yards away. One loud crack and the lower floor was turned into a raft, on which the people stood; the lights on the table still burned. Before the bridge was passed two of the former happy throng, Maggie McKinney and Jennie Holmes, had been hurled into the angry current to death.

It was just before the Standard block was reached that Mrs. McKinney and her boy were washed from the raft and drowned before the eyes of those yet awaiting death or rescue.

Just previous to this moment Clyde Beatty clasped Rachel McKinney and Jennie Holmes in his arms and said: "Girls, I will save you or die with you." And he did die, but Rachel was saved, though Jennie was drowned.

It was at Gladdon that Samuel McKinney, Rachel McKinney and J. C. Higgins were tumbled into the stream. The last drifted into deep water and was drowned. Rachel McKinney, however, felt her feet touching the ground, and as the lightning flashed, saw some weeds, grasped them and held on with superhuman grip until rescued. Her father was but a little distance off. He had, too, found ground in the shallow water to stand upon, and, like his daughter, had discovered the saving weed and clutched them until rescued.

Rescuers fished out James Pierce, Charles Reddick, Lizzie Holmes, who was clinging to a tree; Sam and Robert McKinney.

Jim Wilkinson escaped from the house. As soon as he reached terra firma he ran toward the bridge, and while descending some steps near the bridge was caught by a passing wave and swiftly carried to his death.

The body of little James McKinney was found near Gladden's coal mine, one and a half miles from where the hotel stood. About a mile further down the stream, near the village of Treyveskan, the body of his mother, Mrs. Grace McKinney, was found. The body of F. Clyde Beatty was found about a quarter of a mile below where Mrs. McKinney was found. The body of J. C. Higgins was discovered in a small ravine that lead into the stream near the Gladden mine.

The lifeless form of Miss Jennie Holmes was found hanging in the branches of a tree near Treyveskan. The last body to be found was that of Miss Maggie McKinney. It was found on the banks of the stream below Bridgeville, about five miles from where she was last seen alive. The body of Vincent Wilkinson was found near the bridge, where the building was wrecked.

Wouldbe Rapist Lynched.

SEDALIA, Mo., July 29.—Mart Crawford, a widower, 38 years old, employed as a section foreman on the Missouri Pacific, has been lynched a few miles from Tipton. He was arrested charged with attempted assault upon Miss Mary Tuckley, 16 years old.

Victims of Giant Powder.

VICTOR, Colo., July 29.—The explosion of 50 pounds of giant powder in Victor avenue has seriously damaged four business blocks. Many people were bruised and cut, but none killed.

NEWSAND OTHER NOTINGS.

—Eddie Chombs, age 12, shot and killed Sarah Allen, aged 5, with a rifle at Helena, N. Y.

—Mrs. Moor, of New Martinsville, W. Va., is under arrest, charged with murdering her step-son by poison.

—Preparations have been made in New York to receive and entertain Li Hung Chang, the Chinese statesman, when he arives there on his tour around the world.

—Spencer Cobb, to escape arrest for assault at Sharon, Pa., jumped from a 30-foot trestle, rolled down a 60-foot cinder bank and swam across a river. He escaped.

—Rev. Wm. Messe of DeKalb county, Ind., now aged 70, has married 1,500 couples during his ministry. A reunion of those surviving will be held in a few weeks.

—A correspondent says the Dunbar township road, Fayette county, caved in a few days ago, over the old Eldereale mine. It was found that the mine is a living den of rattlesnakes and copper heads, and workmen cannot go in to replace the rotten props.

The Biggest Fool at Large.

Is the individual who persistently neglects his health, and the means of preserving and restoring it. Many persons who are not constitutional idiots do this. They are genuine objects of compassion as well as censure. A failure of appetite, loss of sleep and flesh, impaired digestion, an uncertain condition of the bowels and symptoms of billiousness are so many warnings of the approach of disease. To disregard them is abject folly, which offended nature in due time punishes severely, if not fatally. That genuine and thoroughly reliable preventive of bodily mischief in the shape of chronic disease, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, will, if resorted to in time, avert those disorders, to the removal of which it is also fully adequate. Among these are chronic indigestion, liver complaint, kidney troubles, constipation, nervousness, rheumatism and malaria.

For Your Protection.—Catarrah "Cures" or Tonics for Catarrah in liquid form to be taken internally, usually contain either Mercury or Iodide of Potassa, or both, which are injurious if too long taken. Catarrah is a local, not a blood disease, caused by a sudden chance to cold or damp weather. It starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat. Cold in the head causes excessive flow of mucus, and if repeatedly neglected, the results of catarrah will follow; severe pain in the head, a roaring sound in the ears, bad breadth, and oftentimes an offensive discharge. The remedy should be quick to ally inflammation and heal the membrane. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowleged cure for these troubles and contains no mercury nor any injurious drug. Price, 50 cents.

IT IS AS CHEAP AS IT IS GOOD:

The Price of THE PATRIOT Has Been Made to Fit the Times. It Is One Cent A Day or $3 When Paid By the Year.

Start the day right by reading the right kind of newspaper. THE PATRIOT is the right kind. It is the only complete morning newspaper that reaches Central Pennsylvania at an early hour of the day. It is one of the foremost Democratic newspapers in the State and the only one printed at the State Capital, the official and political centre of the Commonwealth.

THE PATRIOT makes a specialty of department news and gives more each day than all the other State papers combined. It gives much more entertaining and substantial family reading. It has (copyrighted) daily "hints for housekeepers" (a new menu for every day) and a fashion department, through which the latest patterns are supplied to PATRIOT READERS.

Pennsylvania politics will be of extraordinary interest from this time on. The State Capital will be the centre of exciting news.

THE PATRIOT has exclusive opportunities for securing advance news of a semi-public character.

Special attention is given base ball and cycling events, with detailed reports of national league games.

DAILY, every week day morning in the year, $3 a year.

WEEKLY, Tuesday evening of each week, $1 a year.

THE DAILY issue will be sent from now until after the election, by mail only, on receipt of $1.00.

THE WEEKLY will be sent from now until after the election, by mail only, on receipt of 25 cents.

THE PATRIOT is the best advertising medium in Pennsylvania outside of Pittsburg and Philadelphia. It has a cent a word want column.

Address, THE PATRIOT COMPANY,

EBENSBURG, CAMBRIA CO., PA.

FRIDAY, - - - JULY 31, 1896.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

There will be a picnic at St. Lawrence August 10th, and 11th.

Mr. Isaac Wike, of Belsano, was a visitor to Ebensburg on Thursday.

A large amount of badly cured hay has been harvested this season.

Ex-Mayor Rose, of Johnstown, was a visitor to Ebensburg on Tuesday.

Mrs. Ella Weis, of Gallitzin, and Sarah Callough, of Vetera, have been granted pensions.

Thomas P. Strittmatter, Esq., of Philadelphia, was a visitor to Ebensburg last week.

Misses Nellie Lloyd and Florence Jones, visited friends in Johnstown on Wednesday.

It is reported that the army worm is doing considerable damage in the vicinity of Chest Springs.

The Herald, of this this place, started on its 30th year with this week's issue. May it always prosper.

New potatoes are selling at Everett, Bedford county, for 25 cents per bushel with but little demand.

A locust tree was blown down at the corner of Julian street, near the Catholic church by Monday's storm.

Mr. Richard Tobin, one of Lilly's old-time citizens, died at his home in that place, Monday of last week in the 73rd year of his age.

About two o'clock on Sunday morning two unoccupied houses at Tunnelhill were burned. The fire was evidently of incendiary origin.

Joseph Lintz, of Loretto, and Miss Ida Noll, of Stormstown, Pa., were married on Tuesday, July 21, by Father Willaghan, at Stormstown.

The Emerald picnic held at Cresson on Sunday was a success in the way of attendance but the previous wet weather put the grounds in bad condition.

The contract for building a boat house at Lake Rowena, has been awarded to Mr. Jason Sikes, the contract price being $300. The building will accommodate 30 boats.

Paul Mock, an uncle of Sheriff D. W. Miller, died at his home in Claysburg, Blair county, on Tuesday. Sheriff Coulter went on Wednesday to attend the funeral.

On Wednesday night of last week thieves entered the cellar of A. J. Krumbach, in the West ward of Ebensburg, and stole a couple of hams and a lot of bacon.

Mr. Patrick Crilly, an aged farmer of Allegheny township, was badly injured a day last week by falling off a wagon loaded with grain. In addition to falling off the wheels passed over him.

At Houtzdale on Monday a number of Polish children were attending school at a church. Lightning entered an open window and severely shocked seven of them, four so badly that death is likely to result.

Margaret Carroll, an inmate of the poor house, died at that institution on Sunday, aged about 75 years. Mrs. Carroll was admitted to the almshouse from Carrolltown about a week previous to her death.

The army worm has put in an appearance in Cambria township. We have been informed that they have done considerable damage to a field of oats on the John J. Linc farm about five miles north of Ebensburg.

A farmer in Rome, N. Y., is said to have learned that salt is death to the army worm, a windrow of this substance around a field being sufficient to corral the worm pests. If this be true short work can be made of the pest.

The contractors at work on the P. R. tunnel at Radebaugh, have increased the number of employes, recently. About 300 men are at work now. The eastern end of the tunnel is in 650 and the western about 150 feet.

Lightning struck the Presbyterian church at Cresson, during the storm on Sunday night and damaged the structure to a considerable extent. Two dwelling houses in the same vicinity were also damaged by lightning.

In the third game of the series of seven, between the Ebensburg and Patton ball clubs played at Ebensburg this (Thursday) afternoon, victory resulted in favor of Patton by a score of 6 to 4. Patton now has 2 games and Ebensburg 1.

Dr. W. W. Walters, a well-known physician of Johnstown, died at his home in that city on Thursday afternoon, July 23rd, in the 72nd year of his age. He was born in South Wales and came to this country when 19 years of age.

By the derailment of three cars attached to the fast dressed meat train over the Pennsylvania railroad on Wednesday, the east and two at Sang Hollow were blocked for a few hours. No one was injured nor was passenger traffic delayed.

Mrs. W. G. Rigley, of Jefferson, Texas, and her sister, Mrs. Minnie Kirsch, of Philadelphia, passed through Ebensburg a few days ago on their way to Barr township, where they will spend a short time visiting their father, Mr. Michael Byrne.

Lincoln Wambaugh, of Allegheny township, has picked 1,100 quarts of huckleberries from his farm of two acres and the season is not near over. Emanuel Hersh has picked over 2,000 quarts from his mountain farm of 120 acres.—Berlin Record.

Wednesday night, while William Eckerd and James McGregor, of Bullskin township, Fayette county, were returning home from Scottdale, an unknown negro held them up at the point of a revolver and took their watches and a small sum of money.

A special election will be held in Patton on Saturday, August 1, 1896, on the question of increasing the indebtedness of the borough for the purpose of paying the existing floating indebtedness and the funding, extending, and repairing of same.

A good cow now brings as much in price as the average horse. Beef cattle will never drop in price as the consumption will keep pace with the increase of population and the grazing area is becoming less from the encroachments of agriculture.

The surviving members of the Fifty-fourth Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, who reside at Johnstown, held a meeting recently at which it was decided to hold the annual reunion of the Regiment at Johnstown on Tuesday, September 8th.

James Buckley, a coal miner at Shawville, Clearfield county, committed suicide by hanging the other day. He had been in poor health for a year or more and it is thought became despondent over his condition, and while in that frame of mind ended his life.

E. J. Parrish, Esq., executor of the last will and testament of Bernard Farley, deceased, will offer for sale at the hotel of M. Scharris, in Gallitzin, on Saturday, August 1st, 1896, at 1:30 p. m., a lot of ground in the borough of Tunnelhill, and 90 acres of land close to Ashville.

—George Rager, of Nantyglo, was arrested in this place n Saturday evening for drunkness and disorderly conduct and was placed in the lockup to straighten up. He was released on Sunday afternoon.

—There is an old-fashioned grist mill, propelled by water, in Perry township, Fayette county, that was erected and owned by Gen. George Washington. It was completed in 1776 and has been operated since. It is still in use and is now owned by Henry Smith.

—At a hearing in Altoona Albert Baughamer, charged with complicity in the murderous assault on his aunt, Mrs. H. Baughamer, on Monday morning, was held in $800 bail for court. Two witnesses swore positively that they saw Baughamer near the house on the morning of the assault.

—Mr. John Bradley, an old and esteemed citizen of Lilly, died at his home in that place on Friday morning, aged 70 years. He is survived by an aged wife, one son and three daughters, and also by four brothers. His remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery at Lilly on Sunday.

—The examining board of the Cambria County Bar met at the court house, in this place, on Monday, when the following named students passed the preliminary: James S. Dick, Harry F. McNamara and Charles Hasson, of Ebensburg, and J. H. Stevens and Harry Doerr, of Johnstown.

—Steel files are being placed in the Prothonotary's office this week. The next auditors' report will likely give the people an insight into the uses of steel files that they are not dreaming of. Their principal use is in increasing the salary of the county treasurer, but it is a little expensive to the taxpayers.

—The Supreme Court last week reversed the judgment of the Common Pleas Court of Somerset county in the suit of Miss Mary Hentz vs. the Borough of Somerset, in which the plaintiff had been awarded a verdict of $775 by reason of injuries sustained through falling on an alleged defective sidewalk.

—A very distressing accident happened to Fred Rougnex, of Frenchville, Clearfield county, while at work cutting in the woods near that place on Saturday. A misstep resulted in his falling on a double bitted axe, cutting his throat and almost severing his wind pipe. His recovery is deemed hardly possible.

—One day last week Mrs. Herman Queer, of Milford township, Somerset county, went out to a berry patch some distance from her home to gather berries. As she did not return home that evening, a seaching party was sent out the next day and the dead body of the unfortunate woman was found in the bushes.

—The borough fathers have placed a model crossing over Julian street on the north side of High street. It is a good piece of work and they should be commended for doing such work right when they undertake it. It will be a good guide for crossings in the future. The work was done by John T. Davis.

—About 11:30 o'clock on Saturday last Dorothy, the four-year-old daughter of J. C. Head, cashier of the First National Bank at Latrobe, fell from the balcony on the third story of their residence to the pavement below, alighting on her head and dying instantly. Her skull was crushed and she was otherwise mangled.

—The amount of damage done in McKeesport, Pa., and vicinity by the high water in the Monongahela and Youghiogheny rivers on Saturday night and Sunday is estimated at $200,000. In the town of Dravosburg, immediately opposite, on the Monongahela, water covered the first floors of no less than seventy-five houses.

—Mine Inspector Evans, advises a Democrat reporter that he never knew of the time when business in the coal fields had been as dull as it is at present. Nearly all the mines in this district are working, but they are short on orders and this has been the result of a depression in business among the operators.—Johnstown Democrat.

—Hydrophobia has broken out among the dogs, cows, sheep and hogs in Path valley, Centre county. Many animals have the rabies and it is feared the malady will become epidemic through the county unless it is promptly checked. State Veterinarian Pearson has gone to Spring Mills to see what can be done to prevent its spread.

—Paper telegraph poles are the latest development of the art of making paper useful. Those poles are made of paper pulp, in which borax, tallow, etc., are mixed in small quantities, the paper poles are said to be lighter and stronger than those of wood, and to be unaffected by sun, rain, dampness or any of the other causes which shorten the life of wooden pole.

—Among the political announcements published this week is that of Mr. Thomas Hoover, ex-steward of the almshouse, as a candidate for county commissioner. Mr. Hoover is well known all over the county and it is needless to say that he is well qualified to perform the duties of the office, and should he receive the nomination would make a popular candidate.

—Great damage is being done in various portions of Centre county by the army worm, which has now made its appearance. On the experiment farm at State College they are unusually bad. George C. Watson, professor of agriculture at the college, is of the opinion that unless some extreme measure is at once devised for their destruction, they will increase ten fold in a few weeks.

—Peter Munday, employed as a laborer on a farm near Kittanning Point, received injuries on Wednesday morning that caused the loss of his right eye. The prong of a pitchfork which he was using in removing hay from a wagon struck him in the eye, mashing it and destroying the eye ball. The eye was removed at the Altoona Hospital on Wednesday afternoon.

—The card of Mr. Raphael Hite, of Carroll township, as a candidate for poor director, is published in another column. Mr. Hite has served one term as director and has discharged the duties of the office with credit and ability. He has always been careful of the interests of the taxpayers, while he has always been in favor of having the poor well taken care of. If nominated and elected he will perform the duties of the office with the same fidelity in the future as he has done in the past.

—A special train on the Pennsylvania railroad carrying troops from the Lewistown encampment struck a buggy containing a young man and woman, at the crossing at Bird-in-Hand, near Lancaster, Pa., at an early hour Sunday morning, Barbara Hersney, of Black Horse, was instantly killed and Enos Barge, of Refton, her escort, had an arm cut off and is probably fatally injured. The horse was instantly killed. The young couple were returning from a party and were chatting with friends in a rear vehicle when struck by the locomotive. They are the children of wealthy farmers.

—Charles Alexander, who was connected with F. W. Clark in his newspaper and other affairs at Johnstown, was arrested at the home of his father, at Blacklick, Indiana county, last week on the charge of forgery, misrepresentation and fraudulent entry, preferred against him by Geo. H. Oiewine, president of the Altoona Building and Loan Association. The information was made before Alderman Andrew G. Owens, of Johnstown, the day after F. W. Clark was arrested—June 9—but Alexander suddenly left for parts unknown. Alexanderer entered bail in the sum of $800 for his appearance at court.

—John Seike, of Benore, Centre county, offers a reward of $25 for information concerning the whereabouts of his son Edward, who wandered away from home on June 29th. The young man is aged 24 years, is 5 feet, 3 inches high, weight about 150 pounds, has light hair, blue eyes, mustache, full face. When he left home he wore a blue blouse, black pants and black slouch hat. He speaks both Elglish and German.

—With the exception of the great Krupp Gun works, in Germany, says the Pittsburg Post, the shops of the Pennsylvania railroad at Altoona, are said to be the largest industrial establishment in the world. At present there is but little difference in favor of the Krupp establishment, and, while the demand for guns is decreasing, the business of the great Pennsylvania railroad is increasing so fast that the present buildings are insufficient in capacity and many additions are necessary. Before three years more have passed the Altoona shops will be the largest on earth, and no other industrial establishment will begin to equal them in their dimentions and in the number of men employed. Recently the company prepared plans for large additions, and the new buildings will be erected at once. Hereafter all locomotives for the Pennsylvania railroad and the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg will be built at Altoona, and only repair work will be done at the other shops.

Through Wonderland.

The Yellowstone Park is one of the most wonderfully attractive regions of the world. Its beauties of scenery, the wild grandeur of its mountains and canons, compel the admiration of every visitor, while its phenomenal geysers and curious mineralogical formations make it a rich field for the investigation of the scientist. Universal interest attaches to it, and in order that the natural desire to vist it may be accomplished in the most satisfactory manner the Pennsylvania Railroad company has arranged for a tour covering a period of sixteen days, leaving New York and Philadelphia, Thursday, August 27.

As the tour will be conducted under the personally-conducted tourist system inaugurated by the above named company, it is hardly necessary to give the assurance that it will be arranged in the most complete manner. It might be well to state that no other means of seeing the park thoroughly is comparable to that afforded by a well-ordered personally conducted tour.

A special train, consisting of a dining, Pullman vestibule drawing-room sleeping, compartment, and observation cars, which will be the best that can be secured, will be provided, in which passengers will live en route, and whenever the journey is broken the choiciest rooms in the leading hotels will be reserved for the use of the tourists, for which regular rates are paid, so that the guests, although members of a party, enjoy all the privileges of individuals who may have made their own selections.

The party will be conducted throughout by a tourist agent especially selected for his ability and experience, with chaperon to look after the comfort of the lady passengers.

The rate, covering every necessary expense, will be $210 from Boston, and $200 from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington and Harrisburg; proportionate rates from other points.

Detailed itinerary will be sent on application to Tourist Agent, Room 411, Broad Street station, Philadelphia.

Captured a Horse Thief.

The Altoona Tribune of Friday says: On July 13th Howard Nagle, a boy aged 15 years, coolly appropriated a horse which was grazing on a common at Millville and rode away. The owner, W. F. Peters, of Millville, got on the trail of the youthful horse thief and later made information before Alderman Huff, charging him with the offense. The warrant was placed in the hands of Constables Ed. Stains and Roe for service.

Yesterday the officers left the city in search of the offender. At Gallitzin they learned he had been there and had gone from there to St. Augustine. At the latter place the officers learned that the offender had gone to Hastings, and after a fevered hustle they arrived at that place at 10 o'clock, P. M., in time to detect him in the act of offering the stolen animal for sale at $25. The horse and the youthful thief were brought to this city yesterday, where the animal was given to its proper owner and the offender locked up.

Last night Nagle was arraigned for a hearing before Alderman Huff. Seeing that the evidence against him was conclusive, he plead guilty, and was held in $500 bail for court. The security not being forthcoming, he was taken to jail last night by Constable Kreider.

Marriage Licenses.

The following marriage licenses were issued by the Clerk of the Orphans' Court for the week ending Thursday, July 30th, 1896:

Charles Canny and Catharine Dougherty, Johnstown.

George H. Fyock, Coopersdale, and Clara E. Lehman, Geistown.

George W. Reffner, Conemaugh, and Mary E. Grove, Jackson township.

David Duncan, Franklin, and Sadie Thompson, East Conemaugh.

Joseph Valuck and Sarah E. Amey, Glasgow.

Daniel M. Kinsey, and Cora B. Harshberger, Johnstown.

Isaac J. Farmer, McKeesport, Pa., and Della A. Potts, Cumberland, Md.

George B. Richardson, Johnstown, and Effie Ridenour, New Paris, Bedford county, Pa.

Frank Onguay and Frances Butler, Johnstown.

John Williams, Washington township, and Mary Fisher, Altoona.

A Deadlocked Conference.

The Republican Senatorial Conference to select a candidate fo represent the Cambria-Blair district, met at the Logan House, in Altoona, on Tuesday, and effected an organization by the selection of Dr. J. C. Luke, of South Fork, as chairman, and H. W. Culp, of Altoona, as secretary.

There are two candidates—Hon. J. C. Stineman, of South Fork, whose conferees are Dr. J. C. Luke, of South Fork, David B. Wilson, of Mineral Point, and George B. Stineman, of South Fork.

The Blair county candidate is Dr. D. J. Appleby, of Tyrone, who has for his conferees, M. H. Culp, of Altoona, H. C. Burger, of Freedom township, and Dr. E. H. Appleby, of Tyrone.

Since their organization the conferees have been holding sessions daily and balloting without result, the vote standing always the same, Stineman 3, Appleby 3.

Are Not Candidates

On Tuesday morning James Westrick, one of Carroll township's most prosperous and respected farmers, was a caller at this office. Mr. Westrick was nominated for county commissioner by the late Populist convention held at Carrolltown, but he wants it distinctly understood that he is a Democrat, and that the use of his name by the Populists was unwarranted. He means to formally withdraw his name from the ticket, upon which it was placed without his knowledge or consent.

William Switzler, another prominent Carroll township farmer, and a near neighbor of Mr. Westrick's, was selected by the People's party as its candidate for county treasurer. He is also a Democrat and like Mr Westrick, does not desire any honors at the hands of the new party.—Hastings Tribune.

Excursions to the Seashore.

The next of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's series of popular tenday excursions to the seashore will leave Pittsburg on August 6th.

The reason of the great favor in which these excursions are held is easy to see. The rate of $10 for the round trip is phenomenally low, considering the distance and the high character of the service; the limit of twelve days just fits the time set apart for the average vacation, and the dates of the excursion are most conveniently adjusted. There is also the widest field for choice in the selection of the resort. Atlantic City, Cape May, Sea Isle City and Ocean City are the choicest of the Atlantic coast resorts, and any one of them may be visited under these arrangements.

A special train of parlor cars and day coaches will leave Pittsburg on the above mentioned day at 8:55 A. M., and connect at Philadelphia with special train via the new Delaware river bridge route, landing passengers at Atlantic City in twelve hours from Pittsburg; or passengers for Atlantic City may spend the night in Philadelphia and proceed to destination by regular trains from Broad Street Station or Market Street Wharf the following day.

Tickets will be sold for regular trains leaving Pittsburg at 4:30 and 8:10 P. M., from all stations at which they stop, and from stations from which regular connection is made with them. The trains have Pullman sleeping cars attached and arrive in Philadelphia next morning, whence passengers may proceed to the seashore on any regular train that day.

Tickets will be sold from the stations at the rates named below:

	Rate.	Train leaves.
Pittsburg	$10.00	8:55 A. M.
Johnstown	9.25	11:10 A. M.
Hastings	9.25	6:48 P. M.
Ebensburg	8.85	7:20 P. M.
Cresson	8.50	11:55 A. M.
*Altoona	8.00	12:45 P. M.
Philadelphia Ar		6:46 P. M.

*Stops for dinner.

For further information apply to ticket agents or Mr. Thomas E. Watt, District Passenger Agent, Pittsburg.

San Jose Scale.

1. This insect is the most formidable pest which has ever threatened the fruit interests of Pennsylvania. If unchecked, it will in a few years destroy absolutely the orchards and gardens of the state. It will kill apple and pear trees in two years, currant bushes in a single season.

2. It spreads slowly but surely through an orchard, having a special liking for the Bartlett, Buerre Giffard, Bosc and Anjou among pears, the Yellow Transparent, the Fay Currant, the Lombard plum and the common Juneberry. These trees and plants shoujd be examined for it. In Pennsylvania it has not been seen on the Peach, Cherry or Apricot.

3. Where but few of the insects are present on a tree they are most easily found on the fruit on which they produce circular purplish blotches, very characteristic. Where a tree or bush is thoroughly infested, the whole plant presents an ashy, dusty or scurfy appearance.

4. The insect can only be combatted successbully after the leaves have fallen. Yet every fruit-grower should have a constant watch upon his trees and every infested one should be marked for treatment.

5. Badly infected trees and plants should be dug up and burned at once. This is the only sure treatment for them.

6. The witner treatment of trees in Pennsylvania should consist of spraying them as soon as the leaves fall with a hot solution made by disolving 2 pounds of whale oil soap in one gallon of water. The spraying should be repeated before the leaves open in the Spring. This treatment may confidently be expected to hold the insect in check.

7. Report all occurrences of San Jose Scale to DR. GEO. E. GROFF, Special Agent,
Lewisberg, Pa.

The State Fair.

The Pennsylvania state fair will be held this year at Johnstown, September 7 to 12 inclusive. All arrangements have been made, and everything indicates one of the most successful fairs that the association has held in many years. The premium lists aggregate $18,000 in cash, with numbers of special valuable prizes additional. while the speed ring comprises $5,000 in purses, and some of the most noted turf celebrites of the country will be among the contestants. The committee on invitation announces the following distinguished visitors: President Cleveland, Major McKinley, W. Jennings Bryan, and Governor Hastings and staff. The fair will be held on the grounds of the Tri-County Driving Park and Agricultural Association at Roxbury, a suburb of Johnstown, which has been enlarged and improved specially for this occasion. N. F. Thompson, the secretary of the Johnstown board of trade, has been selected as general manager of the fair, and to whom all inquiries should be be addressed. Reduced rates on all railroads and ample hotel accommodations for all visitors.

Will Be Built.

The Courier has been reliably informed that the new road between Patton and Ebensburg via Eckenrode's Mills and Bradley Junction will positively be built. It cannot come too soon to suit the large number who are compelled to drive to the county seat by way of Carrolltown, which is much out of the way. As has been stated before this new road will shorten the route by nearly five miles and will be a road that will not drift in the winter time.—Patton Courier.

BRYAN STILL SILENT.

Won't Talk About the Populist Nomination.

SAYS THE FUTURE WILL DECIDE.

A Prominent Populist Says His Party Wants to See Sewall Win—Democratic Chairman Jones' Plan of Fusion Received With Favor.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 29.—Mr. Bryan has received a number of telegrams containing suggestions in regard to the action of the Populist convention and to all of them he responded, in effect, that he will act with deliberation, and that nothing will be done which can be justly criticised by any of the elements who are sincerely interested in the success of the cause of bimetallism.

In his replies to these expressions he earnestly advises all friends of the cause in all parties to refrain from criticism of those who, however widely they differ, otherwise occupy common ground in desiring the immediate restoration of free coinage of silver. Mr. Bryan expresses the utmost confidence that a wise and gratifying solution of the perplexing conditions will be presented and adopted in due and good time, and that the solution will be both honorable and satisfactory to all parties. Further than this Mr. Bryan declined to talk in relation to the situation. Every entreating inquiry calculated to fathom his plans or purposes met with the simple response: "I must decline to be interviewed concerning the St. Louis convention or its results."

J. W. Blake, formerly chairman of the Populist state central committee in this state and an active factor in Nebraska Populism, thinks he can see a way out of the present entangling alliance of the Democrats and Populists in she arrangement of the electoral ticket to that but one set of candidates will be necessary. His plan is the same as that suggested by Senator Jones, chairman of the Democratic national committee. He says that the selection of the candidates for the electoral college must be left to the good sense of the Populists and Democrats of the respective states.

"The Populists have nominated Mr. Watson," he said, "merely to preserve the identity of the party. Populists will not care, in most of the states, if all of the electors put upon the joint ticket are Sewall men. This is especially true in the northern states, and in the southern states it will make little difference, as far as Bryan is concerned. Even if the vote on Bryan and Sewall is divided in the electoral college, there is not any doubt that the Sewall votes will be largely in the majority. The tickets will be put up in the respective states with the agreement that if the Democratic vice presidential candidate has more supporters in the electoral college than the Populist candidate, the votes for the latter shall be cast for the former, and vice versa."

Mr. Blake says that there will be no perplexities arising from the nomination of Watson, and that Mr. Bryan will probably never have to either accept or reject the Populist nomination, as it is the plan of the Populist to elect Mr. Sewall.

THE PEOPLE AFTER FACTS

Treasury Department Prepares a Circular on Financial Matters.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—So numerous are the questions brought to the treasury by every mail seeking information relative to financial and currency matters that the overworked clerical force of the director of the mint has been totally unable to answer them.

All available copies of the report of the directors for last year, which contained tables and information and would answer a large portion of the queries have been exhausted and at last the department has hit upon the device of printing a circular containing in succinct form statements of facts relative to the coinage, bullion production, circulation per capita in various countries and such information as will meet the needs of the many persons who are now seeking facts on which to base conclusions respecting the issues of the campaign.

The matter embodied in this circular has been carefully considered and has the approval of the secretary of the treasury. It is expected that the circular itself will be received from the printer for distribution about the end of the week.

WATSON MEANS TO STICK.

Why He Reversed His Decision Regarding Going on the Ticket.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Thomas E. Watson, candidate for vice president on the Populist ticket, in a Telegram from Thomson, Ga., to The Herald, says:

"Our executive committee must decide the question of dividing electors. If Mr. Bryan accepts our nomination and Mr. Sewall should retire, Texas Populists would probably be content with Bryan and Watson, even though Bryan did not endorse all the platform.

"I was absolutely sincere when I said I would not accept either place on the Populist national ticket. After the convention met and the fusion strength developed it seemed that our party would be swallowed up by the Bryan forces, and to have gone into the presidential campaign with no Populist national ticket meant death to the People's party.

"The Georgia delegation then telegraphed me, urging me to allow the use of my name to harmonize the factions and save the party. I consented and I will abide the consequences. When I said I would not accept I did not dream that such a crisis could possibly come upon our party."

Officer and Highwayman Dead.

NEVADA CITY, Cal., July 29.—The dead body of Sheriff David Douglass and the corpse of an unknown highwayman have been found lying a few feet apart in a woods two miles from town. There were five empty chambers in the pistol of the sheriff, who had been shot through the heart and in the right eye and hand. The bullets of the sheriff had gone through the robber's heart, abdomen and hip. The unknown man had a rifle, but it had not been used. It is supposed Douglass was shot by a confederate of the highwayman.

Against an Insurance Company.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 29.—Judge Tillinghast of the appellate court has directed the entrance of a decree forfeiting the charter of the Commercial Mutual Fire Insurance company, restraining the president and other officers of the company from transacting any insurance business in the name of the company and appointing James C. Collins, Jr., receiver.

Couriers and Interpreters In Spain.

On the platform we were stopped, first by hotel touts, who told us in bad French that we must go with them, and then by interpreters, who said that they could speak German, which was of no possible use to us, or English, which we could hear was no more fluent than our Spanish, and porters, who fought to carry our bags, and customs officers, who wanted to look into them, and of course the most hideous of beggars. J. got rid of the customs officer, and we went outside to find a hotel coach for ourselves. As we did so there mounted to its front seat the most odious of the interpreters, sweet and smiling, and no doubt later at the Roma he claimed a fee for having captured us.—Elizabeth

MONEY THE ISSUE.

Democrats Will Consider Nothing Else, Many Speakers.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—It is regarded quite likely that the Democratic national committee will select Washington for their principal headquarters and will have a branch in the west. Senator Dubois of Idaho, it is expected will be a member of the national executive committee and will have charge of the western end of the campaign.

It is not the intention of the Democratic managers to recognize any issue except the money question in the campaign. They will endeavor to keep that steadily to the front, and will put an immense force of speakers in the field. All the bolting Republican senators and representatives intend to take the stump.

TO LEAD GOLD DEMOCRATS.

Secretary Morton Said to Want the Presidential Nomination.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 29.—There is a well defined rumor afloat in this city that Nebraska will present another candidate for president. J. Sterling Morton, secretary of agriculture, has been in Nebraska for a week or more at Arbor Lodge, his farm home near Nebrasky City.

It had been reported that he was here to check the tendency of Democratic federal officeholders to gather about the Bryan free silver standard, but it has been generally reported in this city that he is here to pave the way to a presidential nomination. Mr. Morton contemplates announcing himself as a candidate for the presidential nomination at the hands of the gold standard Democrats.

Thinks Bryan Will Accept.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 29.—Gover Holcomb says he believes Mr. Bryan will accept the Populist nomination, and as he had lately held a lengthy interview with him, the governor's opinion is worthy of a great deal of weight. The muddle over vice president, he said, would be settled by fusion in different states, Sewall and Watson to take their chances in the electoral college. In Nebraska, the governor said, there would certainly be fusion.

New York Democratic Convention.

NEW YORK, July 29.—The Democratic state convention has been called to meet at Buffalo on Sept. 16.

MORE MONEY FROM BANKERS.

The Gold Reserve Again Increased—Some Withdrawals.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The Boston banks have again come forward with an offer $1,000,000 in gold coin to the treasury and Philadelphia also offered $300,000. If the department gets all in sight the balance will be raised to $112,000,000.

The withdrawals were $209,300 in gold coin and $26,044 in bars, leaving the balance stand at $104,832,623.

Tebeau Case to Be Heard Friday.

CLEVELAND, July 29.—An answer has been filed in common pleas court in the celebrated injunction suit brought by Captain Tebeau of the Cleveland Baseball club against the directors of the National League, to prevent the collection of a fine alleged to have been unjustly imposed. The defendants filed a notice to dissolve the temporary injunction which will be for hearing on Friday.

Cretes Whipped the Turks.

ATHENS, July 29.—A large body of Musselmen, supported by Turkish troops, engaged in pillaging the Asomati district of the Island of Crete, has been attacked by a force of 1,500 insurgents. The latter drove the Mussalmans and the Turkish troops out of the district referred to and inflicted serious loss upon them.

Prominent Officials Indicted.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—The grand jury has presented an accusation against Supervisors King, Scully, Benjamin, Hughes, Dunkirk, Morganstein and Wagner, asking their removal from office on the ground that they corruptly reduced the assessments of several large corporations.

Pursuing the Outlaws.

HENNESSEY, O. T., July 29.—A number of deputies are still in pursuit of the outlaws who held up and robbed the stage near Lacre. It is stated that two of the registered letters stolen from the mail sack were very valuable.

Good For Irish Political Prisoners.

LONDON, July 29.—During the debate on the home office vote on Friday next, the home secretary, Sir Matthew White Ridley will probably announce a mitigation of the sentences of the Irish political prisoners.

A K. of P. Official Skips Out.

PORTLAND, Or., July 29.—George McConnell, grand keeper of records and seals of the Knights of Pythias of Oregon, has disappeared and his accounts with the order are about $2,000 short.

STATE HAPPENINGS

Hamilton Bros. will build a new glass factory at Latrobe.

Over 60 converts were made at Chester Heights camp, just closed.

The army worm has appeared in Center county and farmers are much alarmed.

Benjamin Brewski, 6 years of age, was killed by a trolley car in Lancaster.

Emmett Miller, aged 14, was kicked on the head by a mule near Lancaster and instantly killed.

The women of New Castle propose to beautify the neglected park. They are tired waiting on the men.

Two street car employes were seriously hurt in Scranton by coming in contact with live wires.

The end of this week will see but 25 per cent of the ovens in the Connellsville coke region in operation.

The ordinance taxing bicycles at New Castle has been declared invalid, owing to the want of an enabling act.

The hardware store of Harry B. Temple, at Greensburg, was robbed of $100 in money and other valuable property.

It was reported in Harrisburg that Senator Quay intends to plead with Governor Hastings for Bardsley's pardon.

Joseph Schmidt of Jeannette was waylaid by two tramps, who knocked him down, robbed him of $15 and left him for dead.

At Brownsville Policeman George Porter arrested a drunken Hungarian and other Hungarians attacked him and beat and cut him badly. His life was saved only by the arrival of another officer and a number of citizens.

HANNA IN THE EAST.

Will Open New York Headquarters Tomorrow.

CONFERENCE OF LEADERS TODAY.

The Chairman Refuses to Mix In the New York Factional Fight—Petitioned to Make Tariff the Issue—Quay Is Attending the Conference.

NEW YORK, July 29.—National Chairman Hanna is in the city. Hanna announces that the city headquarters of the Republican national committee will be established in the Metropolitan Life Insurance company's building at Twenty-third street and Madison avenue. The headquarters will occupy the greater part of the fourth floor of the building and will be opened for business tomorrow.

Mr. Hanna has had many callers. Among them was Fred S. Gibbs, the national committeeman for this state. He accepted an invitation to attend the conference of the executive committee this afternoon.

Mr. Hanna was asked whether Mr. Gibbs came from Mr. Platt. He said: "I presume that in one way Mr. Gibbs represents Mr. Platt. No, I did not see Mr. Platt and I have not invited him to the meeting of the committee and I do not expect that he will come up.

"But, see here, why draw Platt's name into this thing? I am chairman of the national committee. There is a factional fight in this state. It is not my purpose to add fuel to the flames. I recognize no faction and I believe that all good Republicans are working for the good of their party.

"The meeting is for the purpose of planning the campaign in this section. I have a dispatch from Mr. Quay saying that he will be here."

When Mr. Hanna read of the action of the Democratic state committee in maintaining silence over the Chicago ticket, he said:

"Well, if they keep this thing up we won't have much opposition. The action means that there will be nothing done in New York state for Mr. Bryan until after Sept. 16 at the very earliest. We will therefore have practically six weeks advantage of them in active work."

A delegation from the Tariff Reform League called on Mr. Hanna and asked that he make tariff the issue, instead of the money question. Mr. Hanna said that he could not decide that question, but that the delegation could send a representative to the committee meeting today and the question could then be discussed.

WILL FUSE IN MICHIGAN.

The Democrats Re-Elect Dickinson's Law Partner Chairman.

DETROIT, July 29.—The Democratic state central committee has declined to accept the resignation of its chairman Elliott G. Stevenson, and called the state nominating convention to be held at Bay City, Aug. 25. Although Chairman Stevenson, who is the law partner of Don M. Dickinson, has been a radical advocate of the gold standard policy and still emphatically denounces what he terms the outrage of unseating some of the Michigan gold standard delegates to the Chicago convention, he accepts the platform and candidates.

It is arranged that the Populist and the New Union Silver party conventions will be held in Bay City on the same day as the Democratic convention and it is expected that a fusion of the three parties on one ticket will be accomplished, as a state law enacted by the last (Rep.) legislature requires that the name of any candidate cannot appear on more than one ticket.

LEVERING HAS ACCEPTED.

Formally Notified of His Nomination by the Prohibitionists.

BALTIMORE, July 29.—Joshua Levering of this city has been officially notified of his nomination for the presidency of the United States in the Lyceum theater by the Prohibition party. Prior to the notification the Maryland

JOSHUA LEVERING.

Prohibitionists held their state convention and nominated electors in the various Maryland districts.

The meeting was called to order by the Hon. William Daniel of this city, after which the Rev. Dr. J. E. Smith, also of Baltimore, offered prayer. Summerfield Baldwin, the permanent chairman, then assumed the gaval and introduced O. W. Stewart of Illinois, who, as chairman of the committee on notification, delivered the address informing Mr. Levering of his nomination. The latter read from manuscript his letter of acceptance.

BEAT A RAILROAD TRAIN.

Remarkable Race of a Bicycle Sextuplet Near Syracuse, N. Y.

SYRACUSE, July 29.—When the westbound Empire state express was about two miles west of Syracuse it raced with six athletic young men on a sextuplet. Arrangements for the race were quietly completed several days ago. At this point is a stretch of cinder path about four feet wide and a mile and a half long. As soon as the Empire hove in sight the sextuplet got under way.

The Empire was soon abreast and the race began. For a quarter of a mile it was an even thing. At the end of a half mile the sextuplet was four lengths ahead. The sextuplet was then obliged to slow down, owing to a short bridge a quarter of a mile ahead. A number of railroad officers and bicycle men witnessed the race and four photographs of the race were secured.

Kentucky Gold Democrats Organize.

LOUISVILLE, July 29.—The gold standard Democrats of Kentucky will hold a state convention on Aug. 20, in this city, to perfect a thorough organization of their forces and select delegates to the national convention decided upon at the recent conference held in Chicago. Massmeetings are to be held in the various counties of the state on Aug. 8 to select delegates to the state convention.

Trying to Save Scott Jackson.

FRANKFORT, Ky., July 29.—The papers in the case of Scott Jackson, convicted of the murder of Pearl Bryan, near Fort Thomas, Ky., have been filed in the court of appeals. The court is asked to grant a new trial on the ground of specified errors.

Died In a Swimming Pool.

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, Colo., July 29.—William B. Noble, a wealthy citizen of Washington, has died in the swimming pool here, presumably of heart failure.

A BUST OF McKINLEY.

It Will Be Presented This Afternoon By Chicago Students.

CLEVELAND, July 29.—Ex-Governor McKinley spent a good portion of his time at the Hollenden hotel Tuesday, where he received many callers. It was women's day in the centennial celebration, and many ladies were among those who called to greet the presidential nominee. In the evening he attended the women's centennial banquet at the Grays armory and made a brief address, after which he returned to Windermere.

Mrs. McKinley was present at the women's meeting at the Central armory in the morning, and was introduced to a large number of those attending.

This afternoon a delegation from the Republican club of Chicago university will visit Canton and present to Major McKinley a bust of McKinley by Hirsch, the sculptor.

A delegation of Knoxville (Pa.) citizens, two hundred or more, will visit the major tomorrow.

A WOMAN'S CELEBRATION.

Representatives From All Over the Western Reserve In Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, July 29.—Tuesday was Woman's day in the city's centennial celebration. An all day meeting was held in Central armory, attended by women from every part of the Western Reserve. Addresses were made on philanthropy, household economics, clubs, education and the past, present and future. Among the speakers were Mrs. A. F. Johnson, dean of the Women's college at Oberlin, O.; Mrs. Helen Campbell, Mrs. Mary Wright Sewell and Mrs. Kate Brownlee Sherwood.

In the evening a splendid banquet and reception were given at the Gray's armory, a table being set apart for each township in the reserve. Amoung those who responded to toasts were Governor Bushnell and Mrs. Croly (Jennie June). Major and Mrs. McKinley were present with Mrs. M. A. Hanna.

INDIANS ARE STIRRING.

Greatly Excited by the Corn Dance, They Cause Trouble.

WICHITA, Kan., July 29.—The Cheyenne and Arapahoe Indians are becoming restive and trouble is feared. Sixty Ute and Pueblo Indians from Western Colorado, have stirred up a commotion at the reservation by introducing "the corn dance," similar to a ghost dance, and which causes the Indians to become wildly excited.

The visiting Indians evaded Agent Woodson, and for two days gave their new dance in a secluded spot and against his orders. Woodson finally corralled the Colorado Indians and sent them home. For teaching the new dance, the Cheyenne and Arapahoes gave the visiting braves a fine herd of ponies, recently purchased for the Indians for use in cultivating their farms.

SPAIN OFFERS BIG REWARDS.

New Plan to Catch Filibusters—Immunity Promised Captains.

HAVANA, July 29.—The Official Gazette publishes a decree offering a reward of $24,000 to anyone enabling the Spanish cruisers to effect the seizure of filibustering steamers and offering a further reward of $9,000 to any person enabling the Spanish cruisers to capture filibustering sailing vessels of over 205 tons.

It is added that the captains of filibustering vessels seized will be considered as enjoying immunity.

JAMESON FOUND GUILTY.

He and His Followers Sentenced For Raiding the Transvaal.

LONDON, July 29.—Before the lord chief justice, Baron Russell Kilowen, Baron Pollock and Mr. Justice Hawkins in the queen's bench division of the high court of justice, the trial of Dr. Jameson, Major Sir John Willoughby, Colonel R. Grey, Colonel H. F. White, Major R. White and Captain Henry F. Coventry, charged with violation of the neutrality laws in invading the territory of the South African republic, has been completed and the defendants found guilty.

Dr. Jameson was sentenced to 15 months' imprisonment without labor, Major Sir John Willoughby was sentenced to ten months' imprisonment. Major R. White was sentenced to seven months' imprisonment, and Captain Henry F. Coventry, Colonel R. Grey and Colonel H. F. White were sentenced to five months' imprisonment.

THE KEELEY CURE

Is a special boon to business men who, having drifted unconsciously into the drink habit and awaken to find the disease of alcoholism fastened upon them, rendering them unfit to manage affairs requiring a clear brain. A four weeks course of treatment at the

PITTSBURG KEELEY INSTITUTE,
No. 4246 Fifth Avenue,

restores to them all their powers, mental and physical, destroys the abnormal appetite, and restores them to the condition they were in before they indulged in stimulants. This has been done in more than 1600 cases treated here, and among them some of your own neighbors, to whom we can refer with confidence as to the absolute safety and efficiency of the Keeley Cure. The fullest and most searching investigation is invited. Send for pamphlet giving full information.
